

2004 A “6” Year for Humanity Co-Creating Heaven on Earth

In 2003 we experienced the power of the 5 energy to open up what is stuck and in need of change. Sometimes the methods for affecting these changes was unsavory and not with the best of intentions by the powers at be, but if we look past that into the intention of the Universal mind working through us, we may see that the seeds of transformation have been sown.

In 2004, the symbol of 6 will be affecting Universal consciousness. What this is asking of us is to take full responsibility for ourselves, our thoughts, our actions and the co-creation of our future.

As an archetype, 6 represents the Divine Mother consciousness, the aspect of unconditional love. 6 has the task of balancing and harmonizing that which has been opened up, changed and fragmented for a new mosaic. The Iraq crisis is a perfect example of a 5 Universal year. Now it is our job to integrate the lessons and gifts of 6 in order to bring peace and harmony to any and all stressed out situations, be they personal or global. We must “mother” the growth of love as the only reality for human interaction.

At a conference I attended with my husband this past year, one of the recurring themes was that we may hospice the old paradigm as it is dying and midwife the new. I love those images and perhaps if they touch you, you might think on what your response is to that idea. For me, to hospice and midwife are not so different; one attends what is ready to let go and return to source, the other attends the birthing of what is coming in from source. The qualities we bring to either are our ability to be compassionate and support the process, to be present without trying to control or manage the outcome, to listen with respect, to hold the highest of intention of love and when appropriate express ones creative gifts into the situation. This is the idea of 6, to hold in ones self the highest and best idea for all and to express that energy as love, understanding, acceptance, beauty, harmony, music, rhythm, esthetics, and all the bounty from the great mother or feminine creative. Here she comes. Are we ready to receive her and open to her requests? In Dan Brown's "thriller" (and it was that!), The DaVinci Code, Mary Magdalene is united with Jesus as his partner. This book (and if you haven't read it I highly recommend it) caught the attention of millions of people because we are all longing for the feminine to be reunited with the masculine. Without this holy union the planet will not survive. The feminine precedes the masculine, 6 before 7, in order that the masculine form of God is anchored in the Goddess.

How can we be active participants in co-creating heaven on earth? We must hold more love inside us than ever before. We must be part of the solution, not the problem. Are we to be perfect, no? But we are to be loving to the parts of ourselves that still need hospice care and midwifing. We must treat our wounds with the love a good mother would so they may heal. The energy it takes to maintain those wounds (negative core beliefs) when released, can return to our creative self and we will have more to give to the world. Barbara Marx Hubbard who is one of my favorite sages, says that when we express our gifts, we evolve. Think about that, especially from an energetic standpoint. We are here to express that which is meaningful to us, which is how we reveal our divinity. The more of us creating, the more light there is on the planet. This coming year exalts this idea for all of us and if we tune in, we will feel the presence of that unconditional love guiding and protecting our hearts. Fear melts away in the face of love.
